

Bergerson-Caswell dissolves well water worries...

with professionalism,
integrity and innovation.

Municipal engineers, plant engineers and consulting engineers — you're a sharp bunch of people! To your analytical mind we submit some unusual attributes you can factor into your well contractor selection process.

Fleet size. The number of rigs a well company has isn't just breast beating, it has a direct bearing on the timing of service. With our service rigs we can usually arrive within 24 hours of your call because it's easier for us to free-up a truck. Pump and pipe inventory. We have the buying power to stock a large inventory of parts. We buy right, sell right and we can repair your problems faster without waiting for factory shipments. Ask other well companies about the size of their inventory. Innovation. Much of well installation and repair is problem solving and we approach it creatively. We patented the high velocity jetting method of cleaning wells and we're always building special problem solving tools. Hire a contractor who thinks as they work. Byron-Jackson pumps. If a contractor isn't using these premier all-American made submersible and vertical line shaft turbines you may not be getting the best from your supplier.

ON THE MEND

As reported in the last issue of HOLE NOTES, Mark Smith of the Minneapolis Golf Club had an accident with a chain saw in a tree he was trimming. The above photo shows Mark explaining to Guy Green of the M.G.A. and M.G.C.S.A. how the whole thing happened.

Mark is now back at the helm at his club but is somewhat restricted by the soft cast and leg brace he must wear while the healing continues.

He surely is going to look funny with one tan leg and one pale one when he sheds the medical paraphernalia!
