

New Edition of a Classic Turf Diseases Book Has Been Published

Completely revised and updated, Management of Turfgrass Diseases, 2nd Edition, by Dr. Joe Vargas, Jr., Michigan State University, is now off the press. An international lecturer, instructor and consultant, Vargas provides the latest information on maintaining healthy turf and identifying turf diseases.

Management of Turfgrass Diseases, 2nd Edition covers cultural, genetic, biological and chemical approaches to turf management, and also provides practical solutions to everyday problems. Fungal, bacterial and viral diseases; black layer disease and diseases caused by nematodes are addressed for all major grasses. The book covers cool and warm season grasses, growing conditions, new diseases and symptoms. In addition, the book covers identification and integrated disease management techniques.

Utilizing over 70 4-color photographs and more than 100 black & white photographs, Management of Turfgrass Diseases, 2nd Edition provides valuable tips on irrigation, fertilization and grass culture. The book uses both standard and metric units throughout, and contains an extensive glossary.

The book is a valuable reference for golf course superintendents, lawn care managers, lawn spray applicators and landscape managers, as well as serving as a textbook for all turf programs.

Management of Turfgrass Diseases, 2nd Edition is available for $59.95 from Lewis Publishers, 121 South Main Street, P.O. Box 519, Chelsea, MI, 48118, 800-272-7737 (within the continental U.S.) or 407-994-0555 (outside the continental U.S.).

ticipants win, for ultimately the score is unimportant. It is the level of commitment that counts.

Do you understand the principle of contribution?

The principle of contribution suggests that we cannot demand more out of life than we are willing to give. In other words, our rewards will match our service.

Clearly, what distinguishes successful people is that they are contributors. Their achievements, their happiness is founded on the belief that the purpose of life is to grow and contribute.

In the new world of work, the primary concern of employers is the substance of an individual's contribution. How do you use your gifts, talents, skills and abilities to solve problems and meet needs?

Right now you are where you are because of the special contribution you make to the organization you serve. You will be, however, where you will be because of your willingness to adapt, to change, to learn and to grow.
