

ELM CREEK GOLF LINKS OF PLYMOUTH HOSTS 1998 MGCSA SCRAMBLE

Albany & Wapicada Team Up To Win Scholarship Scramble

Tom Kasner and Michael Saatzer of Albany Golf Club teamed with Mike Kasner and Scot Milstroh of Wapicada Golf Club to win the 1998 Scholarship Scramble at Elm Creek Golf Links of Plymouth with a 17-under-par 53. Their scorecard consisted of 13 birdies, two eagles and three pars. One of their eagles was on the par 4 seventh hole which won the lone skin of the day.

The home course team of Mike Klatte, Jason Klatte, Tom Dargay and Dave Small fired an impressive 54, 16-under-par, to finish second. Host Superintendent Mike Klatte was very pleased to host this year's scramble for his peers.

Winning a scorecard playoff for third place honors went to the Purple Hawk Golf Course team of Ron Noyce, Don Nystrom, Cory Tollefson and Devin Hillman. They tied at 13-under with the team consisting of Jim Johnson, Rich Spring; Dave John, Little Crow Country Club; Tom Wodash, Eagle Creek Golf Club, and Mark Boonstra, Hollydale Golf Course.

the longest drive. Larry Mueller, Minnesota Valley Country Club, sank the longest putt. The winners of the four closest to the pin contests were: Steve Makowske, Interlachen Country Club; Kasey Aanenson, Mankato Golf Club, and pin shooting Neil Wilson, P & H Warehouse, was closest to the pin on two holes.

Thanks to Dave Kirkbride, golf professional at Elm Creek, and his staff for help making the scramble a success.

Next month's meeting is the MGCSA Golf Championship at North Links Golf Course in North Mankato on August 17. Host superintendent is Jerry Storjohann. Defending MGCSA Champion is Tom Meier of Worthington Country Club.
