

There Are 3 Very Good Reasons To Keep Your Trees Pruned: It's a Health Treatment!

1

Dead wood is full of decay organisms and insects. Removal of this dead wood allows the tree to seal out decay infection, and takes stress off its defense system.

2

Thinning allows proper air circulation and prevents damaging loss of limbs during high winds. Air circulation also prevents fungal infections.

3

Pruning actually stimulates your tree, it speeds up many metabolic processes and creates a tree with greater health.
