

The delegates also voted to grant eight credits toward membership for all degree graduates of an accredited 4-year college or university and make them eligible to apply for membership after being employed in the golf profession for 32 months.

Action at the urging of the Northern California Section, the delegates added a clause to the Code of Ethics which would make anyone liable to disciplinary action who accepts a position without first consulting with the officers of the Section or accepting a position which doesn't comply with the job requirements of the Section in which it is located.
