children. Chances are they will act like children when they are. People tend to respond in kind — treat them like mature, responsible individuals and the chances are most of them will act like mature, responsible individuals.

In the long run most people produce far better results when you give them the responsibility and freedom to do their work without interference. Another happy result of this approach is that they're more apt to keep right on doing good work when you're not looking or don't happen to be around.

Ryegrass

Golfdom (May 1975) — article by George Thompson titled "Dependable Under Stress." This article, along with Lee Dieter's "In Defense of Perennial Ryegrass" article which was in last months June newsletter offer all of us a good insight into the progress of perennial ryes in the Mid-Atlantic area.

"In case you find any mistakes in this newsletter, please remember they were put there for a purpose. We try to offer something for everyone in this newsletter. Some people are always looking for mistakes."

Southern California Divot News

"Because American-made balls are 1.68 inches in diameter, last year's output would reach (extend) about 4.138 miles, lined up side by side, or cover about 436,800,000 square inches of space — the equivalent of about 68 acres."

Correction

Last months article on D.C. Stadium's field renovation was miss-titled "Purr-wick System." Prescription Athletic Turf (PAT) is the actual name of the system used at the stadium. The PAT system is based upon, and similar to Dr. Daniel's Purr-wick System.
