May/June 2004

Volume 75, Number 2

Superintendent Pro Tournament, TPC At Avenel Mark Kingora, Golf Committee Chairman April 22, 2004

With temperatures hovering around the 90-degree mark and a stiff 15mph wind, TPC Avenel was not only a test of golf skills but also a test of endurance. In several instances, the wind added what seemed to be at least another fifty yards to the holes that played into the wind. It was an up-close and personal experience into the understanding of just how good the touring PGA professionals are while watching my club pro playing from the "tips" and shooting a very respectable eight over par, 79. Thanks to Dennis Ingram, CGCS and his staff, the professional staff and all other TPC Avenel staff for providing the MAAGCS members with a great golf course, clubhouse facility, dinner and an overall outstanding event.
