THE July meeting of the Minnesota Association was held at the Town and Country Club, Saint Paul. Seventeen enthusiastic members were present. Al Schoenbeck, the greenkeeper, greeted us and treated us to good coffee and lunch before we surveyed the course. He took us to his nursery which is mostly Cocos sod. He has had some difficulty in transplanting this sod, so he cuts it at least an inch and a half thick. One would think that he got below the roots but seemingly not because new sod comes back where it has been cut. That leads to prove that Cocos is a deep-rooted grass. He has considerable velvet bent which has been picked up here and there on the course. It would be interesting to see a green made up of this fine turf.

We walked over the course and admired the fine fairways. He has good tees and keeps enlarging them. Being a Californian, Al likes flowers and plants them around the tees and in out-of-the-way places where they add to the beauty of the course.

His greens are true and closely cut. You can tell by his greens and fairways that his mowers are always cutting perfectly.

One green has become infested with a small grub which has been eating the roots of the grass. Several parts of the green have had to be resodded. Corrosive sublimate and arsenate of lead are saving the rest of the green. Al's new No. 9 green of Cocos sod is a fine piece of work and is getting better all the time.

The course is well-groomed and will soon be the scene of the Ladies' Championship tournament. Al Schoenbeck came here from California where he did much work under William Watson, golf course architect.

Town and Country club claims it is the oldest club in the country on its original site. It will celebrate its forty-fifth birthday this year.

ALL CAN HAVE THEM NOW!

"Would like to have them but can't afford it" is a thing of the past. Increased production and decreased manufacturing cost bring this efficient, 4-cutting-edge blade within the price of all. Write for new price List "NN" and full details. A postal will do.
