RALPH N. JOHNSON
President, Midwest Greenkeepers' Association

THE annual dinner meeting of the Midwest Greenkeepers' Association, held January 5 at Hotel Sherman, committed its chief business of the evening by the election of the following officers, to lead the Association through 1933: President, Ralph N. Johnson; first vice-president, Peter Stewart; second vice-president, Edward B. Dearie, Jr.; secretary, C. A. Tregillus; treasurer, Fred Kruger; directors, D. W. Danley and J. B. Boyd.

Congratulations and good luck, gentlemen! President Johnson and Secretary Tregillus on re-election and the start of your second terms. Fred Kruger (the Senator Glass of the Midwest), the beginning of your fourth term as treasurer. We welcome Eddie Dearie back to an official capacity. J. B. Boyd and D. W. Danley to the Board of Directors and for Peter Stewart some sort of medal. Stewart has served in some sort of official capacity ever since this association has been organized.

Our representatives will be on hand at booth number 40 to discuss your Brown Patch problems.

Mallinckrodt Chemical Works

Before leaving the annual meeting, let us comment on the large attendance, the largest of any previous annual meeting.

The Midwest is going to maintain a booth at the N. A. G. A. Convention and we sincerely hope that all in attendance will pay the booth a visit. A Midwest member will always be in attendance and he will serve you to the best of his ability—dispense information about the city directions, etc., clubs, places of interest that you may wish to visit, etc. Jack Langell will be the chairman in charge and is supported by a large loyal committee.

President Johnson, Mr. Tregillus and Mr. MacGregor have been recently working with Dr. Harrison and Dr. Krause of the University of Chicago about a short course for greenkeepers. Plans as yet are not fully developed. It is planned to conduct the school during the first part of March. Attendance will be limited. Registration charge will not exceed ten dollars. Laboratory work will be featured instead of lectures.

See you at the Convention.
