STMA Issues Awards of Special Recognition

The Sports Turf Managers Association issued Awards of special recognition during its 13th Annual Conference and Exhibition held January 16 to 20, 2002, in Las Vegas, Nevada. The recipient of the 2001 Dr. William H. Daniel Award was Dr. Coleman Y. Ward, (left in photo with Rich Moffitt) Professor Emeritus of Auburn University.

The Dr. William H. Daniel Award is one of STMA's four Founders Awards - the highest Awards issued by the Association. The Award was named for the late Dr. Daniel in behalf of his pioneering efforts and long-term support of STMA.

Dr. Ward has been an educator, resource and mentor in the turf industry, both during his pre-retirement years, and just as strongly in his retirement years. He has been a supporter of the sports turf industry recognizing the special needs of the profession and working to coordinate and facilitate the spread of information among industry professionals and among those entering the industry. He also has worked to help gain recognition of the sports turf factor within the general turf industry and the entire green industry, with field user groups, facility owners and managers and the general public.

Dr. Ward has served as a speaker at sports turf conferences on the national, regional and state levels. The articles he has developed for numerous turf publications continue to contribute to the educational and professional body of knowledge that is elevating field maintenance prac-
