January Meeting Summary

The January meeting of GCSANC was held at Crow Canyon Country Club in San Ramon. Ernie Martin, the host superintendent remarkably kept the golf course open for 88 players, after almost two weeks of continuous rain. The day began with our monthly meeting which included a presentation by Dave Kaplow of Pacific Open Space, Inc. His company is involved with native plants and drought-tolerant landscaping for roughs and out-of-play areas.

A delicious breakfast was then served prior to playing the golf course. We "tip our hats" to Ernie and the staff at Crow Canyon CC for a most enjoyable day. Crow Canyon CC is truly an excellent, well draining facility of which the members and staff should be very proud.

Scholarship Committee Report

The scholarship committee members will have their work cut out for them this winter deciding the fate of 18 scholarship applicants from twelve different colleges.

Your donations to the scholarship fund will allow the committee to award up to $5,000 to a few deserving students. Look for an announcement of the winners in our March Thru The Green.

The scholarship committee consists of Richard Lavine, Roger Martinez, John Holmquist and Andy Slack.

The Dinosaur Has Been Buried

Your Board of Directors, at its January meeting, voted to eliminate the test previously needed for members to move up in class within the association. Those of you satisfying the necessary time requirements may, at this time, contact the office for the required information to change your classification. Your other option is to wait until 1996 renewal notices arrive in late October and answer the questions, at which time you will be correctly categorized.
