Fluid insecticide controls more than 100 insects

The O.M. Scott & Sons Fluid Insecticide is formulated to offer one of the widest spectrums provided by one product, as it controls more than 100 turf, tree and ornamental-damaging insects, including consistent control of the white grub complex.

Scotts says the water-based formulation is easy to handle and mix, and fits easily into an "integrated pest management" spray program.

Gain spectrum control with tree, shrub insecticide

Pageant DF from DowElanco is specially formulated for tree and shrub care.

Pageant protects trees and shrubs from virtually all troublesome worms, beetles, borers, scales and aphids. When the spray dries, it bonds tightly to trees and shrubs, and doesn't wash away, even in heavy rain. Comes in a convenient dry flowable formulation.

Control aphids, mites and other ornamental pests

Metasystox-R2 from Mobay Corporation is an ornamental insecticide effective for pests that attack shade, nursery trees and shrubs.

Absorbed into the root system, Metasystox-R2 travels in the sap stream to protect the plant from sucking insects and mites.

Mobay says weather will not reduce the effectiveness of the product. The chemical is inside the plant where it cannot wash off or blow away. And, it will not destroy beneficial insects populations.

Metasystox-R2 mixes with water to form an emulsion that is usable in soil injection equipment.

Soil modifiers can help turfgrass plants

Power Up Bio-Modifiers can work in harmony with nature in maintaining a balance of essential nutrients and micro-organisms in the soil for optimum plant/soil health and growth.

These Bio-Modifiers actually stimulate biological activity in the plant/soil ecosystem, according to the people at Power Up. According to a press release, "By using these products, the percentage of seed germinated increases and time of germination increases.

"Over a period of time and controlled use, Power Up will enable your soil to release its hidden potential. Through a series of small advances in the soil composition, large life-changing modifications will occur."

Spray-on soil stabilizer aids in erosion control

A spray-on soil stabilizer is now available from Environmental Soil Systems, Inc.

Soil Master WR blends liquid copolymers to form a membrane capable of bonding topsoil and protecting against erosion.

Soil Master WR treatments can also help establish vegetation.

A thicker blend is used in soil erosion problems while thinner blends act as tackifiers in hydro-seeding and mulching.

It is available in 55-gallon drums.

Environmental Soil Systems says Soil Master WR is safe for the environment, as well as non-toxic and non-flammable. It can be used for planned residential communities and other commercial landscapes including parks and golf courses.
