Crabgrass

When it comes to preventing the broadleaf and grassy weeds that most often plague your customers' turfgrasses, PRE-M[®] preemergent herbicide is right on target. Why pay more for other products when, time after time, university trials prove that PRE-M offers you better overall performance combined with unmatched value?

Superior performance made PRE-M the leading* preemergent herbicide. Superior value widens the gap. PRE-M is everything you'd expect from LESCO°, the leading supplier in the professional turf care industry.

Ask your LESCO professional or call 1-800-321-5325 to learn how you can earn generous rebates for your PRE-M purchases.

For Tough Turf Tasks.

For more than 30 years, Kubota has been building diesel powered equipment to handle tough turf and landscaping projects.

Kubota M-Series utility tractors, from 47-90 net engine HP, offer a user friendly design and an ergonomically engineered operator platform for comfort and ease of operation. These tractors are powered by quiet Kubota E-TVCS diesel engines. Cab models provide a zone of operator comfort and all weather protection.

The compact sized B21/L35 TLB's are designed to work in tight places and are easy to transport from one job site to the next with a ³/₄ ton pick-up and trailer. Versatility is provided with Kubota's quick-attach backhoe, Category I, 3-point hitch and rear PTO.

Kubota Grand L-Ten Series from 30 to 46 net engine HP offer a variety of transmission choices – fully synchronized main and shuttle transmission (FST), Look for the grown in Oregon label. It puts all others in a lower class. A lush, healthy, deep green turf is your reward for selecting superior seed. The world's leading turf grass breeders have been perfecting it for more than 20 years. The tough, vibrant turf will not only tolerate drought, but survive cold winters.

When you select Turf Type Tall Fescue seed from Oregon you can be sure you will enjoy your "good judgment" decision year after year.

on the record

Is loyalty dead?

hate quick cuts in music videos, as well as the daily barrage of information that forces us to react, rather than reflect. It makes us want everything now, every answer immediately, every issue resolved on the spot.

It wasn't too long ago that a movie camera lingered on a shot, we had time for hand-written letters and we understood that things take time to evolve. You can almost forget that attitude in today's business environment.

In my first job at a privately owned publishing firm, it was not unusual for an employee to celebrate 30, even 50 years there. Imagine that. Several people spent their entire careers at this firm — from youth to retirement. Loyalty like that is almost inconceivable now.

We live in a race car society and the folks you want to employ are already too comfortable with change. The last 20 years have brought a dramatic reshaping of the business landscape from the one that our parents and grandparents knew.

Free agent market

A recent Wall Street Journal interview with David Birch, a futurist and business growth expert, presented the idea that loyalty is not only dead, it's so dead that managers and owners like you shouldn't expect employees to stay very long. This will force managers to break work up into easily managed, easily trained steps, says Birch, much like Henry Ford's production line. Each assignment, he says, will be simplified to the point that an employee can come in and learn it with a minimum of time and effort.

Birch calls today's new job seekers "free agents" who prefer income gains to retirement perks, who hop from job to job and who see themselves as entirely responsible for their livelihood (quite the opposite from those lifers who let the organization guide their careers).

But what about loyalty? Family-run firms? Teamwork? How can you encourage a feeling of "family" and build a well-run team with workers who are itchy to move on? That's the million-dollar question.

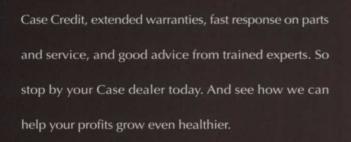

We sure don't know all the answers but we've started the discussion in this month's coverage of "The Labor Crunch: Keep Employees Happy" (pages 36 through 66). There are many theories that probably work, but I'm betting on the one that says it's the organization itself that keeps people loyal. Sure, good wages and perks do wonders, as do interesting work, challenge, rewards and recognition. But the element that binds these together is a strong, people-centered organization.

Do you have a system that works? Are there steps you've taken that you'd like to share with your peers? If you'd like to talk about it, please call me at 800/225-4569 or send me an email at: sgibson@advanstar.com.
