Biographical Note

Clare Gunn was born in 1916 in Grandville, Michigan. Gunn began his post secondary education at Grand Rapids Junior College. He graduated in 1940 with a B.S. in landscape architecture from Michigan State College (now Michigan State University). Gunn earned his M.S. in land and water conservation in 1952 also from Michigan State.

In 1945, he was hired at MSC as an extension specialist in tourism and resorts, one of the first positions of its kind. Gunn took a sabbatical at the University of Michigan to obtain his Ph.D. in landscape architecture in 1965.

Gunn then headed to the University of Hawaii for a one-year appointment as a visiting professor. Gunn left MSU for Texas A & M University in 1966 to join the faculty in their new Recreation and Parks Department. Gunn retired as Emeritus Professor in 1984.
