Biographical / Historical

---

Carol Haddad received a BA in education from Wayne State University in 1972, an MS in labor studies from the University of Massachusetts in 1976, and a PhD in higher and adult continuing education from the University of Michigan. She came to Michigan State University (MSU) as a temporary instructor in the School of Labor and Industrial Relations, Labor Program Service in 1978 and later became a tenured professor. She left MSU in 1990 to become a Senior Researcher and Project Manager with the American Society for Training and Development, and a Research Fellow at Wayne State University's College of Urban, Labor and Metropolitan Affairs before joining the faculty at Eastern Michigan University (EMU) in 1993 working in the School of Technology and Professional Service Management. Haddad retired from EMU in 2015.
